UPY Easter Hike Wilson's Prom

As Easter fast approaches and we all eagerly anticipate Baba's Paska, holy ham & and mountains of chocolate Easter eggs, we should also be dusting off our hiking boots and signing up for PLAST Victoria's annual UPY Easter Hike.

This year - over the ANZAC Long weekend - 24th till the 26th of April - we will be travelling to the scenic landscape that is Wilsons Promontory National Park in southern Victoria. We will be hiking in 2 groups over the southern (bottom) part of the Promontory, one group will hike and camp from Refuge Cove and Oberon Bay while the other group travels through Little Waterloo Bay and Sealers Cove. Both groups will meet up with each other on the second day of hiking.

Book that date in your diary!

Keep a lookout for the registration packs in the mail.

Any questions please contact:

UPY spent 3 days bike hiking their way around the countryside. Very challenging at times - there were plenty of spills, thrills & walking up hills, leaving sore and tired bodies at the end of each day.

УПЮ

After a long day of cycling, bulava generously cooking vecheria for the tired yunatstvo st pl Marco (CAN) demonstrating the “spill”

st pl Ivanka demonstrating the “thrill” - aero tuck position, to be employed whilst descending to “go faster”

UPY koliading - each tabir seems to grow more guitarists

New Years Eve DISCO brought out the JUNGLE BOOGIE and creative costume making Moderate weather meant that several vetry could take place! Yay!

In a change from tradition, the Ya-lynka was held at Sokil on the 2nd of January. The Yidal'na was packed tight, the varenyky were smachni and the mystets'ka prohrama was prykasna, with rearranged "africanized" koliadky

The real reason plastyny bring hairdryers to tabir is so they can more efficiently de-husk the wheat for the kuttia.

A tabir without an open air service is not a tabir. Bishop Peter strikes a pose.

TWO! One and another one!

This year two tabir badges were produced - we couldn't choose! Both badges were designed by st pl Danylo Magalas - the strictly taboroviu "monkey" button badge, and a rather nice metal "60-litta Plastu u Viktorii" metal badge.

The snakes at sokil have been quite active this year

The overnight hike was again a popular and fun experience

A bit of cricket to pass the time

УПН

The african drumming workshop was a highlight

A very exciting game - surely a favourite of the bratchyky and sestrychky

Yabbying

WOULD YOU LIKE TO READ THE FULL TABIR STORY? a few of weeks ago newspaper "Церква і Життя/Church & Life" had an extensive tabir write up written by Symon Kohut & Andrij Radion, in both ukrainian & english. If you missed it, either have a fossick around inside baba's recycling bin or take a look on www.plast.org.au where we will (hopefully) post a scan.

To catch a big yabbie, you need a big rope! bratchyk Pavlo earning himself some style points in the process

Novatstvo rafting in the pool

st pl Roman Dzioba (Canada, via Canberra) planned & ran a quiz night

Man & shed

The Radion family presented Plast with a painting by George Radion's sister Olga, who has sadly passed away. She painted this picture in her youth - the path leading up to the tents from near the swimming pool...Many thanks to the Raadion family for this part of Plast History. L-R Valia & George Radion, Symon Kohut, Teresa Lachowicz Gabriel's tato is a beekeeper & brought a hive with him when he visited tabir. Thankfully he didn't bring the bees! He showed novatstvo how fresh honey is extracted from the hive & cut honeycomb for us to sample. Nothing goes better with delicious honey at breakfast time than pancakes. Yummy!

Working hard on the "Sokil" mosaic

Tativka

George Lubczenko uke's it up

The oldest overnight camper at Sokil - Olexander Malimonenko (Lesia Abbinga's tato) relaxing at the Tativka

Thank you to the parents and friends who visited and camped at the tativka during tabir - your help around tabir and in the kitchen was much appreciated by everyone.

And those toilets don't clean themselves.

This year's hot topics included:

- Amusingly named obscure caravans of the 1970's and 1980's - at tabir time Sokil boasts quite the collection
- The realization that a good dose of heavy rain makes the bullants swarm out of the ground, right under your tent & outdoor setting. This, of course, was not apprent before pitching the tent some days previously

And as usual at tabir, holes were dug and plumbing inspected.

The boys busied themselves erecting the donated shed behind the kitchen - it will house the pumps and valves that pump rainwater up to the tanks in the carpark.

Tativka also got into the cycling action, realizing that the walk to the kitchen, the taj and to tuck your novak in at night was a lot more fun en velocipede. And like residents of flat european countries have known for ages - it is "faster than walking". A couple of the more enthusiastic parents went further - exploring the surrounding national park via mountain bikes. They all came back alive.
